

STUDENT CONDUCT

The Fairview Board of Education believes that an important responsibility of any school system is to teach acceptable social conduct. We believe that such conduct may be taught by example and by providing appropriate incentives. The board also believes that reasonable standards of conduct are to be established and that adherence to those standards insisted upon. The board, therefore, directs the superintendent to establish a regulation, subject to board approval, of student conduct.