The Texas Education Agency revised some of the rules governing actions that a school district should take when a student is determined to be a “close contact” with a household-based family member that tested positive for COVID-19.

Accordingly, Center Point ISD is immediately implementing the following:

A student, who is a close contact to a household family member that tested COVID-19 positive, will be required to follow the same stay-at-home period as the COVID-19 positive family member.

Contact the school office to coordinate learning during the stay-at-home period.
